Project Management Institute Presentation: Project Management & Engineering Project Management Professional Certification

Presenter: Anil Baddi, PMP
Jimmy's Charhouse, Naperville, IL
Thursday, November 16, 2006

The presentation will cover 2 main topics:

How Project Management techniques can benefit engineering professionals

The Project Management Professional (PMP) certification

The Project Management Institute (PMI) is a non-profit professional organization dedicated to advancing the state-of-the-art in the management of projects. Since its founding in 1969, Project Management Institute (PMI) has grown to be the organization of choice for project management professionalism. PMI establishes project management standards, provides seminars, educational programs and professional certification that more and more organizations desire for their project leaders.

The PMI-Chicagoland Chapter Outreach Program began several years ago as a means of contacting organizations on behalf of the Project Management Institute, aiming in advancing their understanding and application of both project management and the project management profession. The Chapter provide talks, speakers, advice, networking and even hands-on involvement in project management activities.

Mr. Anil Baddi is the Director for the Project Management Institute – Chicago Chapter Association Outreach.

Mr. Baddi is also the Director of Program Management for HCL America, Inc., the USA division of HCL Technologies Ltd. India. Their specialty is to provide IT solutions, services and infrastructure to global customers in domains such as Aerospace, Semiconductors, Consumer & Retail, Life Sciences, Telecom, etc.
