January 22, 2009 Joint Sponsored Dinner Meeting

American Institute of Aeronautics & Astronautics
St. Louis Section

BOEING GLOBAL SERVICES & SUPPORT

Presented by Dennis Muilenburg, President, Boeing Global Services & Support.

Dennis will present an overview of Boeing's Global Services & Support business, a unit of Boeing Integrated Defense Systems and discuss the environment and recent growth in the aerospace support sector. Topics will include how life cycle cost and design-for-supportability are affecting initial design, as well as partnership models like performance based logistics.

Dennis Muilenburg was named Boeing president of its Global Services & Support business in February 2008. He leads all aspects of the company's St. Louis-based $7 billion business providing global after-delivery support for military platforms and systems, and a broad array of defense and government services. This includes maintenance, modifications and upgrades for such venerable aircraft as the KC-

135 Stratotanker, B-52 Stratofortress, KC-10 Extender, A-10 Thunderbolt, and C-130 Hercules, as well as numerous commercial derivatives; varying services supporting Boeing and non-Boeing military airplanes and systems.
